

Andrew Fox

April 6, 1947 - April 20, 2025

Andrew Fox, departed from this world peacefully on April 20, 2025, at his residence. Born on April 6, 1947, to Donald R. Fox and Mary Ellen (Clark) Fox, Andrew embraced life with the adventurous spirit befitting an over-the-road truck driver, a career he dedicated himself to for many years, eventually retiring from Brook Trucking in Vanlue, OH. With every mile he traversed across the winding roads of America, he not only delivered goods but also absorbed the beauty of the changing landscapes, storing memories that would forever linger in his heart.

A proud High School graduate, Andrew understood the value of education, yet he found profound lessons in the simplicity of life's pleasures. When he wasn't behind the wheel, he reveled in the wind against his face while riding his beloved Harley Davidson, a symbol of his free spirit. Fishing was another of his passions, where he found solace in the quiet embrace of nature, moments of reflection that grounded him after long hauls on the highway. Andrew was an United States Army Veteran

He is survived by son Jeffrey David Fox, and daughter-in-law, Wendy, special granddaughter, Bailey, brought endless delight to his life. He could often be found cheering her on from the sidelines, be it during her spirited basketball and softball games or while she showcased her magnificent horse. Each of her accomplishments filled his heart with pride and reaffirmed the boundless love he held for his family. Also surviving are his sisters, Kathy (Jim) Cooperieder, Cara (John) Bradshaw, and Mary Susan Frey, as well as his brother, John Michael Fox.

As we reflect on the life of Andrew Fox, we embrace the love he gifted us all; a love that will continue to guide and inspire through the years to come. He was more than a driver on the open road; he was a navigational guide through life's expansive journey, reminding us to cherish our passions, our families, and each other.
