“ To the Ward Family,
We are sorry for your loss. We both remember your mom as a very gracious lady, welcoming us with open arms whenever we came to your house. Of course, that was unless Jerry and Craig were up to no good. Then she would let them have it!!

Your family has many memories to carry with you. Many will be sad memories. Many will be happy and many will cause you to break out in laughter. Keep those memories close and share them with future generations.

Sending you prayers, love and hugs.

“ Our entire family loved Barbara, but especially Mom (Clara Louise Schoenberger). Barbara and Mom became friends at least forty years ago, and their friendship was not diminished at all by the miles between them when Mom and Dad moved here to Mississippi. Every time our family made the trip to Ohio, Barbara and Mom would get to spend a few precious days together. Barbara and Lynn even made the trip south so that Mom and Barbara could be together. Even though Barbara and Mom both had back trouble at the time, that didn't keep them from sharing memories and laughing into the night. Last summer we traveled to Ohio, and Mom and Barbara spent the day together- starting early and ending late.

Mom told me that whenever they parted they said these words to each other: " We only wish we could spend more time together." They had the friendship of a lifetime.
