“ It's been 7 years now since my Great Grandma passed away and I still miss her every single day, she was the woman who helped me become who I am today, and helped my mom raise me. I only wish she could have been here to meet my husband and my son, but I know she looks down on us and watches over us every day. I love you so much Grandma. ”

“ Just wanted to share a few memories of my grandma. The first being a vague memory of when all of us grandkids would spend the night at grandma's and after we were already in our pajamas she would load us in the car and take us out for ice cream. My sister had to remind me of this and I barely remember this but I guess it explains my late night ice cream cravings. Another memory id when I spent the night with her and we were half way back to forest and I pushed the button to her garage door opener and we had to drive back to her house to be sure the garage was not open. I was like really Grandma. There are many memories but what Grandma really gave to me was the Howard name by marrying Grandpa way back then. A name I've been able to pass down to my 3 children, their mother and who knows, maybe another one in the future. Thank you Grandma. I know your dancing on them streets of gold beyond that crystal sea right now. Tell both of my Grandpa's and my little girl I can't wait to see you all someday. I Love you###imported-begin###Mike Howard###imported-end###
