“ Happy memories of visiting the Hunsicker's when we stayed at the Anderson farm. Kate made great (real) lemonade. Trying to think of something happy and personal. I remember my mom (Flo Failor) telling me of a telephone conversation she had with Kate. My mom went to Hunsicker's to drop off a late Xmas present, but no one was home. She knew where the key was hidden and didn't want to leave the package outside, so she let herself in. The next day she got a call from Kate asking if she had been in their house. My mom said yes, but how did Kate know? Kate said she thought about it, and my mom was the only person she could think of who would break into their house to leave 5 pounds of bacon in the freezer.

“ Dearest Kate,
All the memories of when as a child I rode a bike to your house and came to visit. There was always a wonderful smell of something cooking in your kitchen.
And the fun we kids had. Pam, Tim, Lynne, and I got into some great trouble on your farm. And you never seemed to mind. Thank you for your fun-living nature.

Ernie, you and Kate had a love story that had all of us believing in fairy tales. Thank you for showing us that “happily ever after” really does come true.

Always,
Becky Failor
