“ I met Homer years ago (1970's) when Simon Kenton School and Workshop was known as the Hardin County Special School, located in the basement of what is now Hardin Hills. He participated in the summer activities I led with the aid of some wonderful high school volunteers ,and worked in the shop where Daisy White and others worked. He was a quiet, shy fellow with a beautiful smile! Later in life I saw him walking around the south end of Upper Sandusky after he moved there. It was good to see and talk with him. His mother, along with the Cannons, Caspers, Finertys, Shellys, Garmons, and others, dedicated themselves to providing educational opportunities for their children and children to come. It was good to have known Homer and all those children and families at that time.
