“ It's hard to find words to express how thankful I am that Aunt Jessie was an important part of my life. Her door was always open to family & friends, and she was never too busy to sit and listen. Her cooking and storytelling ability were unsurpassed. She & Uncle Clayton often included me on family picnics and trips to the zoo. We shared many breakfasts on Sunday mornings when I stopped in on my way home from church. Aunt Jessie, my dear Mother, and the Irish matriarchs who preceded them were strong and liberated women long before it was fashionable. I am forever thankful for those dear women who served as role models for independent spirit, generosity, courage, and affection. Aunt Jessie is with the others now in Heaven, but like them, she will be dearly missed by our entire family.##imported-begin##Peggy Lee Miller##imported-end##

“ Barbara and family, You have my deepest sympathies on the loss of your mom and grandma. I will always remember her with her hair neatly done and "her face on" sitting at her kitchen table drinking coffee and smoking.##imported-begin##deborah pever snyder##imported-end##

“ To the family of DEAR Jessie~

Your mother was very special to me! Her pleasant and helpful attitude was what drew me to her every time I went to Penneys. I knew I could count her for a smile and some humor as she helped me shop. We spoke of many unrelated subjects as she assisted me in my shopping. Yes, she was wonderful and stood out from all of the other employees. I know she will be missed by many. There truly never was nor ever will be anyone like Dear Dear Jessie Pever~~~##imported-begin##Ann (Dishong) DeWitt##imported-end##

“ Dear Barb and family, Sometimes it is so uncanny how a person pops to memory. I had been thinking of Jesse in the past 2 weeks. Bruce and I would remember her fondly. Bruce spent time at her home when HE and Richie worked together at Sohio. He would remember the China from Sohio that Richie would get for his mom and Bruce for his.

Jessie and I became dear friends as I would clean her house, or should I say we cleaned house and visited. We spent a lot of time at the kitchen table as we laughed and enjoyed each others company. I would remember times we would collapse laughing so hard. She later helped me to get my first real job at JC Penneys, in the stock room. She would take me to work with her every day. I remember the time I fell asleep and slid off the seat and we laughed till we cried. OR the time she made the statement that there was a little ground fog this morning and I thought she had said frog (again being half asleep) and replied with,

"OH did we hit the poor thing".Again being reduced to tears of laughter... There was never a dull moment with Jesse. I still remember the time when she had made up her mind the kitchen was to be painted orange,it turned out beautiful..she was definitely ahead of the times. Jessie was one of a kind,but you knew where you stood with her, she will be missed and remembered forever by those fortunate enough to have known her. Memories are forever and I have a lot of beautiful memories that Jessie and I made together...WITH LOVE AND PRAYERS
