“ I had the pleasure of working with Jon at Ohio National for decades and we stayed in touch for years after retirement. Jon was highly respected and well-liked for his integrity, technical savvy and offbeat sense of humor. He was always eager to share his knowledge with others, often quoting the adage ". . . teach a man to fish and you feed him for a lifetime."

Jon had a variety of interests, including American history, mathematics, computer technology, old movies and ham radio. Nothing gave him greater pleasure than cycling on the Little Miami Scenic Trail and he frequently participated in various organized bike rides around the Buckeye State.

Jon will be missed by a great many and my thoughts and prayers are with his family at this time.
