“ Who can forget the many parties she hosted at her parent’s home in the early 1950s, when teenaged boys first recognized girls? Those were the forerunner times commemorated in Ron Howard’ TV shows, “Happy Days.”

“ Julie was a cherished friend of my late mother, Dianna (Rhoden) Kelbley. Along with my mother, I looked forward to every time she returned home. The kitchen would fill with laughter, and they were so happy to be together again. Fondly remembering Julie and sending my sympathies to her loved ones.

Julie was a great friend and neighbor. We shared many a laugh and we will miss her. Our pets brought us together and she had a cat who trained a puppy. What a group we were.
She will be missed.
Our condolences to her family.
