“ Very good memories of childhood hanging out with Monk!! Since we didn't have a TV, we spent a lot of time at their house to watch cartoons and "the Little Rascals". Many times of bike riding, sledding in the snow, playing softball for hours, and when it got dark, we kept playing. So long ole Pal!!!

“ I had the pleasure of growing up in a neighborhood of Neiderkohl's and Monk and I did everything together good and maybe not so good! We were close, even (blood brother's) a story we both have shared for decades. Monk came to the funeral home when my mother passed away and said he remembered when we were kids out playing in the snow and Mom would have all the kids in for hot chocolate. We talked about how lucky we were to have such a great neighborhood growing up in and having great parents. I will always have fond memories of growing up with Monk and will never forget them. God Bless Tami and the entire Monk family I don't need to tell you what a great guy he was.

The old neighborhood that Jerry talks about was truly unique and Ken played a key role in my younger years. He had a kind heart and was a true friend even though he had this devilish streak at times. Oh how Sister Anselm used to scold him. When I moved to town, Ken taught me to go to Neumieters for some dough for bait and we went to the park to fish. Ball games at Niederkohr field were sometimes contentious but I sure wish all kids could have the experiences I had just playing ball, riding bikes, stopping for a Cherry coke at Miller's drug store.
