“ Words can't explain the loss of a child and we will never know your pain, but the Lord does. yOUR Family is in my prayers. Stay strong for each other. Your little angels work was done early and touched so many lives, and so many will live on because of her. I'm a nurse now and see so much pain and suffering and lingering on of death. Kira has no more pain,; she's in her mansion making her goals and flying with your family. She died on my sons Birthday. He always thought the fireworks for him. Let the beauty of the fireworks be for Kira and her beauty. “ Kira was a beautiful and talented young lady. I was fortunate to have her in art class for several years. I am profoundly sorry for your loss. Even though it is difficult to make sense of this tragedy, I know Kira is in a far better place now. I lost my husband in a motorcycle accident at the age of 23. My faith saw me through those dark days and I believe your faith will see you through this as well. God Bless and heal all of you. Look to the Lord for comfort and remember you do not have to bear this burden by yourself. I am sorry we never got to meet Kira, but from the video it is easy to see she lived life to the most.
