“ Durenberger family, so sorry to hear of your mom's homegoing to Heaven. She was a special lady to me and a great Christian mom that showered blessing onto everyone she came in contact with. I admired her spunk and her boldness to spread the Gospel to young and old.
What a joy your family was to me in the classroom and also in her beauty shop when we discussed Jesus along with her cutting my hair. You kids were always running in and out and saying Hi. May God be near to hold you until you meet with Momma again in Heaven. Prayers, Terri Opper###imported-begin###Terri Opper###imported-end###

“ I feel a deep sense of loss to hear of Lori's passing. She was one of the most compassionate and inspiring people I have ever met. She was an authentic Christian in the truest sense of the word. She was there for me at a very low place in my life. She helped me get connected with a network of caring people. She is one of those people you will never ever forget. God bless and keep her family and friends.##imported-begin##Athena Osborne##imported-end##

“ I am so sorry to hear about your loss. Please accept my deepest sympathy and condolences. I was one of her clients and wanted you to know how good she made me feel at every appt. Earlier this year we shared a couple of special hrs during my visit. For some reason we got into the topic of adoption and she shared her experience with me. She told me about the adoption prep and then she let me down. She was devastated and mourned for months and then she found out she was pregnant with her daughter and how much joy she brought to her life. I enjoyed my visits with her because she always had some wonderful story to tell me about her family. How every year at Thanksgiving or Christmas (can't remember which one) you all would pick a theme/country and cook a meal. She also spoke very highly of her boys and how proud she was of them and loved her grandchildren. I knew her for a few years and thought you should know how much I enjoyed my appts with her and how sad I am to hear she has passed. It is a sad day for me too.
