“ Oh, the hours we spent together were filled with a myriad of emotions. We laughed when traveling back to the woods on a snowy Christmas eve along with Helen March. So precious was that night.

We'd pour over scripture after a Bible devotion on Sunday and Wed. evening. We attended Monday evening Bible study at Umphress' home for many years.

Studying the Word brought us closer to Jesus and closer to each other as sisters in Christ. We'd cry over burdens we carried for our loved ones, praying that our Big God could and would bring a divine solution to each and every trial.

We'd be competitive over games of Uno and Skip-bo that were played on Marilyn's livingroom floor for hours on end.

So you see, we were kindred spirits that invested hope and adoration into each others Christian walk. We could talk about anything and everything because we were in each other's cheering section at all times.

Heaven has gained an angel and Marilyn will be missed momentarily until we are called home to run into Jesus' open arms to reside forever.

Goodbye for now, sweet forever friend!
