“ I remember Nick at the L & K in Carey when I was just a few years younger and this was always our stop after the bars. But the recent years are when I really got to know him. He would stop in my office at Drug Mart to get his blood pressure checked. But I think he really stopped more for the conversation and of course chocolate. He had a special place in my life because even though Nick was younger, he and my dad shared a birthday. I will miss those visits so much but am glad he is at rest now.
