“ Growing up as the Sheriff's kid in the 60's, Bobby was a fixture in our lives. I'm not sure we really understood in those early years that he wasn't officially a member of the force. He knew all the radio calls and was on a first name basis with everyone in town. He could rattle off license plate numbers belonging to various folks without even skipping a beat. Although I've been living elsewhere for several decades, I just know if I had seen him on the street he would have known exactly who I was on sight. He loved everybody and everybody surely loved him. God truly blessed Bobby in life and undoubtedly has a special place reserved for him in eternity.

“ Bob, the world became a little dimmer when you left it. You brought sunshine to everyone you met. And you never met a stranger. I think, even besides your list of rules for life, you taught us all more about living than we ever taught you. Love you Bob. "Sis" Jill

Bobby was everyone's friend. I lived in the neighborhood during my high school years and talked to Bobby many times when he was in front of his house writing down license plate numbers. I'm proud he was my friend. Rest In Peace, Bobby.

I have fond memories of Bobby and his antics. He was a dear soul that blessed many of our lives at St. Peter (Transfiguration of Our Lord) Church. I believe in the "ripple effect" of our every action. Bobby could bring a smile to anyones' heart. If even one of us paid that smile forward, we allowed Bobby to help change the world.

Coming in here very late but when I saw his name I had to write. I last saw Bobby in 2008 but he did remember me and we had a nice reunion chat that day. I had known him from 1st grade at St Peters. I can still visualize him walking along greeting everyone along the way and writing his data down. What a special guy he always was and we are all the better for having known him... He had a pure heart.....
