“ As I am going through our family pictures, I see so many of you, along with Suzy, Pam and me. We were very blessed to be raised more like sisters than cousins. One of my most beautiful memories with you, is of course being in Wurzburgs!! A day none of us could ever forget! You were invited to go to the prom with Bill. Whose Dad owned Bazely's meat market. Where Bill worked. The minute you seen that yellow dress, immediately you wanted it. And right after Mom bought it,we went up that awful wooden elevator, being moved by a man using ropes!! Scared all of us! Not you though! Because you were too busy hugging that yellow dress! We were finally off that elevator! You had to be measured. Then you were ready to cry, when the lady told you, she had to keep your dress, to alter it. It was finally here! Your yellow dress was ready! Much to our delight you put the dress on. I looked and seen tears in Mom's eyes as you smiled and yelled, thank you, Aunt Mary! As much as I looked, nowhere do I have a picture of you in your yellow dress. And sad but true,our family has never been good about sharing pictures.I have no idea why you all of a sudden just cut me out of your life. As did so many of other loved ones! My life would have been very lonely while I had a bowel infection/was in a nursing home. If God hadn't "opened another door" So Samdie, until we meet again, I hope my memory will stay strong enough to always remember the good, not sad! And happy, not bad! I am looking forward to seeing you in your yellow dress! And me and everybody singing and dancing! No more wheelchairs/hoyers in Heaven!!
